
Questions and Answers on Heads Up 5

Question: "What is unique about Heads Up 5?"
Answer: Heads Up 5 is a concentrated premium, acidic, high-foaming cleaner that quickly pulls minerals off any acid-resistant surface, which makes this product ideal for industrial use.

Question: "What is the difference between Heads Up 5 and Acid Foam?"
Answer: Not much is different between the two. Heads Up 5 is more concentrated than Acid Foam, and Heads Up 5 is red while Acid Foam is Purple.

Question: "What are all of the uses for Heads Up 5?"
Answer: Heads Up 5 is designed for use in food production and other manual cleaning applications where soils consist mostly of minerals and a high level of foam is desirable or acceptable. Heads Up 5 is designed for use in foaming equipment, including wall mounted and portable units.

Question: "What fragrance does Heads Up 5 have?"
Answer: Heads Up 5 has a mild to no odor.

Question: "Where and when Heads Up 5 work best?"
Answer: Heads Up 5 works best where high-foam characteristics are desirable and soils are primarily mineral.

Question: "Are Heads Up 5 sold ready-to-use?"
Answer: No. Heads Up 5 can be dangerous if not diluted correctly. 2 ounces of Heads Up 5 should be used per gallon of warm or hot water. Always read label before use for diluting instructions.

Question: "The safety data sheet for Heads Up 5 says that it may be corrosive to metals, but if that's the case how can it be safe to use on food production systems?"
Answer: Heads Up 5 can be corrosive to soft metals. Heads Up 5 is perfectly safe on stainless steel which is what most of food production systems are made of.